These potatoes are for seedling purposes only. Call early.—adv
—The school building at Shamburg near Pleasantville, erected 45 years ago, during the height of the oil excitement in that field, a landmark used jointly as church and school of late, was destroyed by a fire discovered last Monday evening. A derrick and tub containing a small quantity of oil owned by Hampton & Dunham, were also destroyed.

Mr. Collins' Condition Very Serious.
The condition of T. D. Collins, at his Nebraska home, has been most critical during the past week, and his passing away seems now a question of only a few days, or hours perhaps. This morning he is resting, apparently, in a semi-conscious state. His son, Everel S. Collins, arrived from Ostrander, Wash., yesterday, and is at his father's bedside.
—Joseph Black, who was found guilty of manslaughter in causing the death of Jerome Weaver, near Tyersburg, Nov. 1st, 1913, in court at Clarion Monday was refused a new trial and sentenced to not less than two years nor more than eight years in the Western Penitentiary.
—The jury list for the May term of court embraces the names of 60 petit and 24 grand jurors. This extra panel of petit jurors is made necessary on account of the murder trial which is to take place at that time, requiring what is known in legal parlance as an "over and terminer" jury.
—Geo. Kennedy of Tionesta, who was taken seriously ill in the Union station, Oil City yesterday afternoon and taken to the hospital, is still in a very bad condition. Kennedy took sick on the train from Pittsburgh, and while waiting for one to take him to his home collapsed. He is 35 years old.—Venango Herald, Thursday.
—This morning opens the trout season in this state, and it is astonishing what a lot of Ike Walton's are taking advantage of the favorable weather, overhead, to try their luck. Oil City sent out a large contingent, they say, all headed for Forest county, where the fishing is not bad and there is still some "bait" to be had. Should any of our sportsmen chance to meet a friend in need it is hoped they will be reasonable if not liberal with any from Venango county.
—Arthur G. Wolfe, of Tionesta, Pa., and Miss Freda L. Harmon, of Newmansville, Pa., were united in marriage by the Rev. Norris A. White, at the First M. E. parsonage on Fourth Avenue this morning.—Warren Times, Monday. The bridegroom is a son of John Wolfe of Tionesta township, and the bride is a daughter of John G. Harmon of near Newmansville. Both are deservedly popular in their community and are receiving the congratulations and well wishes of their many friends on this happy occasion.
—For several days last week the river in this vicinity was teeming with wild ducks, geese and swans, having apparently been bewildered by storm conditions while on their northern flight for the summer vacation. Although some shooting was reported, we heard of none in this immediate vicinity. Since Uncle Sam has put an embargo on spring shooting of all migratory birds there is a disposition to respect the law by all who are aware of its existence, besides it is likely to make very expensive work for those having a notion to try a shot.
—The New Era Telephone line, of which O. E. Rupert of Porkey is manager, has been connected with the Forest Telephone through the Kellestville central, and forty subscribers in the towns of Ballow, Porkey, Minister, Wellers, Lower Sheriff, Upper Sheriff, Hastings, Cooper Tract, Foxburg, Lynch, Henry's Mills, Barnes, Hoover's and Sheffield can now communicate with any point reached by the Forest or Petroleum phones. This will prove a great convenience to many persons in these places, as well as to outside parties wishing to call them up. A small charge will be made for the service.
—Rose A. Walker and Ben, Wenk, of the Tionesta Republican, came up from Tionesta yesterday in a motor boat which had been purchased there by S. E. Walker. Although the current was very fast and the wind was dead against them, the trip was made in seven hours, which is considered very good time under the conditions. Mr. Wenk acted as engineer and pilot, while Mr. Walker managed to turn the steering wheel in the proper direction when told to do so. The engine is a double cylinder, eight horse power, and acted very well during the trip. The return journey was via train last evening. The launch will be taken to the Conewago at Edgewater, this week.—Warren Times, Monday.
—John N. Rathfon, almost a lifelong resident near Lickingville, Pa., died at his home there on the 8th inst., aged 74 years, after an extended illness, having suffered a paralytic stroke several months ago. Mr. Rathfon was a veteran of the civil war, a quiet, unostentatious citizen who always had the universal esteem and good will of his neighbors because he was an honorable man, who went about his daily toil, when in health, without a murmur or complaint, a true Christian gentleman. His funeral was held Friday and was largely attended by old friends and neighbors. Surviving him is his estimable wife, who, in maidenhood was Miss Martha Kerr; also two sons, Willis, of Tionesta, Pa., and Fred, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. John Gold, living in West Virginia. Many friends in this neighborhood—the family having for a time lived at Nebraska—will be saddened to learn of the death of this upright man and former neighbor.
—An especially sad death was that of the well known base ball pitcher John (Jack) O'Neill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter O'Neill, of Lucinda, Pa., which occurred in St. Francis hospital, Pittsburgh, at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night, April 7th. He had been in the hospital for about two weeks and his death followed a double operation for appendicitis and gall stones. He was highly esteemed as a young man of correct habits and no man had more friends in this section, where he was well known as a ball player of more than ordinary ability. During the season of 1911 he pitched for the Wheeling league team but since that time had been engaged in the fire clay business with his father and brothers near Lucinda. He was engaged to be married to Miss Alice Moore, of Leeper, the wedding date being set for next month, but being aware of his probable death, at his request the marriage ceremony was performed in the hospital at 7:30 on the evening of his death. Mr. O'Neill was aged 28 years. Besides his wife, he is survived by his parents, three brothers and two sisters. The funeral was held Friday morning in the R. C. church at Lucinda, Rev. Father Heibel officiating.

Wedding Bells.
LEWIS—MEALY.
A pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wertz, in Tionesta, at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, April 14, 1914, when Miss Florence Rhoda Mealy, of Newmansville, Pa., became the wife of Dr. A. L. Lewis, of Pittsburgh, Pa. The couple were unattended and Rev. M. E. Wolcott, pastor of the Free Methodist church, officiated at the service. Immediately after the ceremony a splendid wedding dinner was served. Dr. and Mrs. Lewis left on the night train for Pittsburgh, where they will be at home, the doctor having a dental practice, as well as being an instructor in dentistry in the University of Pittsburgh. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mealy and was held in high esteem in her home community. A host of friends will extend best wishes for a happy future. The guests included the parents of the bride, Mrs. Fred Mealy of Newmansville, Mrs. Wm. E. McGee and Mrs. M. E. Wolcott of Tionesta.
MOTZER—HAUG.
A romance which had its inception in far-off Germany culminated in a happy wedding on German Hill, this county, Tuesday forenoon, April 14, 1914, when Miss Pauline Haug of Wurttemberg, Germany, and John Motzer were united in marriage by Rev. J. F. Scherer of Endeavor. In the presence of a few relatives and invited guests the ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Galinich, on the Kiser farm, which will now be the home of the happy couple, Mr. Motzer having recently purchased the farm. He has resided in America for a number of years and on Jan. 1st left New York on the steamship George Washington for a visit to his old home in Wurttemberg. The trip to Bremen was made in ten days. Miss Haug consented to return with him and leaving Bremen on March 28th the return trip to New York was made in ten days, also on the George Washington. Mr. Motzer is an upright and industrious man, one of a type which makes good citizens, and many friends will wish him and his fair bride an abundant measure of prosperity and happiness.
ALDERMAN—BEERS.
At six o'clock Sunday evening, April 5, 1914, at the home of the bride's parents in this city, Mr. Lewis Leroy Alderman and Miss Twila Maude Beers were united in marriage in the presence of relatives and a few special friends. The ceremony was gracefully performed by Rev. J. F. Rorex, pastor of the Baptist church. The lovely bride was elegantly attired in white silk brocade trimmed with hand-made lace and silver braid and wore a bridal veil with orange blossoms. Though the wedding was unostentatious, the arrangements were in excellent taste throughout and the evening was passed most pleasantly until the time came for taking the train for the bridal tour to points in the northern states. The bride's going-away gown was of handsome mahogany colored cloth and was exceedingly becoming. Both bridegroom and bride are well known and highly esteemed in this community and will receive a cordial greeting from their hosts of friends when they return in a few weeks to make their home here.—Tarpon Springs Evening Leader.
A very pleasant entertainment was given Friday night previous to the wedding at the residence of Mrs. Thompson, in the way of a miscellaneous shower for Miss Beers and Mr. Alderman.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Beers, of Tionesta, and her many friends here will join with us in wishing them prosperity and happiness. The family spent the winter at Tarpon Springs, Florida, returning home during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Alderman are with them and expect to remain here until fall.
Another Veteran Passes Away.
Capt. William McCann died at the home of his daughter in Bridgeport, Ill., April 11, 1914, where he had arrived the day previous from his Florida home at Lynn Haven. He had been in declining health for several weeks, and finally started north to be with his relatives. An hour before his death he remarked to his son-in-law, H. P. Shoemaker, that he felt better than for six weeks previous. He had gone to his room to lie down for a rest, and when, a short time after, his daughter went into the room she found him breathing his last. His heart had given out and he passed away without a struggle.
The body arrived here Tuesday afternoon and the funeral is being held at Newmansville today, where the interment takes place in the Walters cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. M. E. Wolcott of the Free Methodist church, of which Capt. McCann had been a member for upward of fifteen years.
Those of his children attending the funeral are, Mead, Fred and Ord McCann, Mrs. Maude Binzman and Mrs. Olive West, and H. P. Shoemaker and his son Forest.
Captain William McCann was born in Millcreek township, Clarion county, Pa., June 3, 1836, being a son of Martin and Susan (Kelly) McCann. In young manhood he set out to do for himself, and his first work was for the late Hamilton Stow, then operating a lumbering plant at Newtown Mills, Forest, then Venango county. This was in the late fifties, and about 1860 he found himself in Warren county, where he worked in the lumber woods. His first marriage was to a Miss Whitcomb, who lived only about two years afterwards. Shortly after his return from the civil war he was united in marriage with Miss Henrietta Pickard, who died Jan. 7, 1892. Of this union twelve children were born, of whom six still survive, namely, Mrs. H. P. Shoemaker, of Bridgeport, Ill.; Mrs. James Binzman, of McKeesport, Pa.; Mrs. Geo. Kiffer, of Richmond, Va.; Fred S. and Ord Warren McCann, of Greensburg, Ill., and Mead S. McCann, of near Titusville, Pa. The deceased continued to reside in this section until a few years ago, following lumbering, oil operating and farming for the most part, finally retiring from active business pursuits and spending the winter months in Florida. One brother, John McCann, also survives him.
Captain McCann was one of our most highly respected citizens, with whom it was a pleasure to meet and converse. In his business affairs he was the soul of honor, by nature kind, considerate and generous almost to a fault. But it was in his military record that he shone most brightly, and it was one to be proud of.

At Warren, on the first day of May, 1861, he enlisted as a private in Co. H., 10th Pa. Reserves, Gen. Harrison Allen's company, in response to President Lincoln's first call for 75,000 volunteers to put down the rebellion. Little did the boys then realize or think that it meant four years of bloody carnage. At the organization of the company Mr. McCann was elected second sergeant, from which position he was successively promoted to first sergeant, first lieutenant and the captaincy, December, 1863. After the first battle of Bull Run Capt. McCann participated in every battle of the Army of the Potomac, with the single exception of Chancellorsville, until June 11, 1864, when he was honorably discharged at Pittsburgh. He was wounded in the right hand at the battle of Antietam by a fragment of shell. He was also brevetted major by President Johnson for gallant conduct on the battlefield of Antietam.
As a soldier, citizen and true Christian gentleman Captain McCann was held in highest esteem by all who knew him, and his passing away has saddened the hearts of a very large circle of friends.
Kellestville.
Harry Shaw was quite painfully injured while at work on the Salmon Creek mill. A stick flew from the edger and struck him in the face, breaking his jaw bone and bruising the flesh on his cheek, which has laid him off for the present.
